Improving Your Uptime with Xpress Inventory Messaging

When you need a replacement part, time is critical. With Xpress inventory messaging on MeritorPartsXpress.com, now you have visibility to exactly how quickly that part will arrive. Knowing how fast your order will be delivered to your doorstep may be something you are familiar with, especially when it comes to your personal online shopping experience. At Meritor, we are continuing to bring business-to-consumer experiences you have now come to expect, to a business-to-business site through MeritorPartsXpress.

No user ID is required to view Xpress inventory messages. From the product details page, you can expect to see "Get it by" (and in some situations, "Want it by") messaging. MeritorPartsXpress.com now also uses location information to provide real-time product inventory messaging regarding availability and delivery specifications.
